

FIRMS THAT OFFER MUNICIPAL SERVICES IN FACE OF POLISH ACCESSION TO EUROPEAN UNION

Summary

The processes of integration of Poland with European Union require elaboration the homogeneous and consistent strategy, which would take into consideration the state of preparation and existing limitations from the different part of economy. The opinions about particular sectors should take into consideration many aspects and consequences of integration, both for individual trades, and for the whole economy. This has special meaning in case of trades about infrastructure character, which dominate in sector of municipal services. The preference meaning of infrastructural trades come from their strong influence on forming conditions of functioning the whole economy, and the same creating principles of her restructuring.

The creation of stable and competitive market of municipal services requires the more far demonopolization and privatization the existing municipal enterprises and stimulation of creating new ones. Opening the market will cause the growth of efficiency property utilization, enhance of services quality or maintenance hitherto exists near lower stock. Liberalization of municipal services market cause, that the local government will be able to stop offering municipal services, defining only their standards and controlling the effects.

Poland can use the experiences of EU countries in range of solutions in area of municipal services, even though the sector crosses deep restructuring there yet. Nevertheless, in many countries of EU there is the legal system supporting these changes but in Poland it is on stage of creating. In spite of large distance what separate Poland from EU, there are undertaken the innovative works which aim is to speed up the restructuring.

Translated by authors