

LOCAL DEVELOPMENT IN EXPENSES OF COMMUNES

Summary

Polish communes may have some expense which are related to local development. They have to do that in accordance with statutory law in force and accepted directions of economic development. Simultaneously they must collect sufficient organizational and economic potential, which is necessary to achieve these objectives. Because of access to source of capital and better organization Polish commune may spend more money on support of development.