TRANSPORT ACCESSIBILITY AS A MAIN CRITERION FOR INVESTMENT ATTRACTIVENESS OF THE REGION ESTIMATION

Summary

The article shows importance of transport accessibility as an integral factor of investment attractiveness for regions. The role of transport affiliation net in assessment of investors interests at some areas has been marked. The author shows that local government authorities should involve in improvement of accessibility because building and modernization of road infrastructure can help promote enterprise.