COMPLEMENTARY CHARACTER OF ADVISORY SERVICES IN PROJECTS
OF THE PUBLIC-PRIVATE PARTNERSHIP

SUMMARY

Public-private partnership is treated as a remedy for solving problems of infrastructure gaps. Public-private partnership (PPP) is connected to interrelations between public bodies and private sector in construction and operational phases of public infrastructure objects. Because of its features PPP can be named as a project finance in public infrastructure.

Combination of PPP and project finance attributes doubles complexity and risks of project realization and leads directly to ensure assistance of advisory firms specializing in technical, legal and financial matters.

There is a global market of advisory services for long-term and huge project finance and PPP projects.
