EVALUATION OF THE TRANSPORT INFRASTRUCTURE

SUMMARY

In the article the author presented the impact of the condition and development of transport infrastructure on development of investment, its activity and its ability to be absorbed into the regional policies. The infrastructure may be a sort of a guide post for the development of the country and its regions. In the article, two main phases of infrastructure development were discussed:

1. Infrastructure within SOPT (Sectoral Operational Programme Transport): Maritime Economy in years 2004-2006.

The article ends with examples of correct influence of the infrastructure on the regional policy.
