THE POSTAL AND TELECOMMUNICATION MARKETS TRANSFORMING AND PREMISES OF THESE TRANSFORMATIONS

SUMMARY

The postal and telecommunication markets are an interesting example of areas that were organized on a monopoly base where subsequently competition was introduced.

The article explains the reasons of introducing monopoly as well as the reasons that decided on changing the above mentioned markets into competitive areas. The article shows also basic regulations that expedited the development of competition on the postal and telecommunication markets.

Translated by Roman Czapiewski