

INFORMATION GOODS AND THEIR FEATURES Summary

Currently, the importance of information as an economic good is increasing, both for the whole economy as well as for individual market participants. The article describes basic distribution and basic features of information goods, with particular emphasis on the value of information.

Translated by Maciej Czapiewski