

SUPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT VERSUS INFORMATION

Summary

The author describe information as a part of Logistics Information System, issues connected with the flow of information in supply chains, especially dependencies between conceptions of supply chain management - ECR, VMI, CPFR and using of IT tools in supply chains. The article is a contribution to further considerations and research.

Translated by Sylwia Konecka