BUSINESS MODEL ON THE INTERNET - THE THEORETICAL ASPECT

Summary

In the recent years an increasing interest in business models analysis can be observed. The aim of the article is to provide a profound understanding of what the business model is and to present changes in business model analysis. The author also tries to indicate characteristics of the e-business models and to systematize business models used on the Internet. Presented conclusion are based on literature analysis.

Translated by Anna Scheibe