IT SYSTEMS IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION Summary

IT systems become a basic tool which is used to supervision processes inside a company. The companies use the most effective IT solution which increase the company's efficiency. The most important is to implement the IT system in the right way. A public administration implements IT solutions too. The question is, what about a quality of services of public administration? In this article, the author concentrates on IT systems review, which can be implemented in this sector. He also discusses results of researches about IT solutions in public administration.

Translated by Pawel Fajfer