E-LEARNING AS A PART OF E-BUSINESS Summary

E-learning has changed distance learning. The revolution based on Internet economy influenced also professional and academic education. The main e-business assumptions are fulfilled and the number of e-learning types and IT support tools is constantly increasing. The article presents the idea of e-learning, features and perspectives of WBL market and finally future trends of development. As final conclusion the integration process of e-learning application, Knowledge Management systems and social tools is described.

Translated by Tomasz Ordysiński