Summary

The search for new organizational solutions due to the economic transformations have contributed to the creation of new models of governance and new organizational solutions. Contemporary challenges of organizations are reflected in the increasing number of management concepts. More and more talk about learning organizations, agile, intelligent, knowledge-based, network, fractal or virtual. Hence, in this paper the author presented the concept of virtual organizations and the importance for market success of these organizations is to manage workers knowledge.

Translated by Iwona Chomiak-Orsa