Summary

This article aims at giving a picture of possible ways of measuring the process of a Knowledge Management in the enterprise and solutions/tools for the valuation of Intellectual Capital components (qualitative or quantitative) and at prove that these actions contribute to an increase in market value of the company and they should be used inseparable.

Translated by Monika Leśnik