INFORMATION SYSTEMS IN KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT IN THE COMPANY

Summary

There is a strong connection between information and knowledge. Human minds convert information into knowledge. Therefore, information systems play so essential part in the company's knowledge management.

The report presents the conception of knowledge management, connection between information and knowledge and information management and knowledge management, and also the role of information systems in the process of gaining knowledge.

Translated by Anna Wallis