RESEARCH AND EDUCATION AS A FACTOR OF REGIONS AND SUB-REGIONS COMPETITIVENESS

Summary

The paper is an attempt to present some remarks on the role of the research and education for the development of polish regions and sub-regions. The author analyses the main factors of the regional and local development. the special role plays the knowledge based economy and intellectual capital. the development of the research and education in Poland is determined through many economic and non-economic factors.

Translated by Stanislaw Flejterski