Summary

PWSZ in Walcz was established in 2004. Since the beginning, its' walls were left by three generations of the students, who studied Finance and Accountancy.

The main aim of this article is to analyse the vocational activity of the school - graduates of the specialization: Finance and Accountancy, just after graduation from studies (first level- Bachelor's Degree) and an attempt to answer the questions mentioned below:
- current vocational experience of the school - graduates, kind of executed work in accordance with education,
- usefulness of work (united with education) knowledge and skills achieved during the studies,
- further plans connected with education (courses, trainings and taking up the further studies - Master's Thesis),
- reasons of the unemployment and vocational passivity among the school - graduates.
